If there’s something you need to learn get to it! You’ll want to be an effective learner and a safe and functioning member of the UTEP community as soon as possible. If you need advice or training, please visit the UTEP IT Service Catalog on the web, the Atlas lab in the UGLC, or the Student Technology Support Center in the library.

UTEP has no explicit Technology Literacy requirement; it’s all about learning by doing. As you work on class projects, seek out opportunities to develop and extend your technology skillset. When you get stuck, talk to your professor or your friends, or consult the resources mentioned earlier.

If there’s something you need to learn get to it! You’ll want to be an effective learner and a safe and functioning member of the UTEP community as soon as possible. If you need advice or training, please visit the UTEP IT Service Catalog on the web, the Atlas lab in the UGLC, or the Student Technology Support Center in the library.

Twenty-first century readers and writers need to:
- Develop proficiency with the tools of technology
- Build relationships with others to pose and solve problems collaboratively and cross-culturally
- Design and share information for global communities to meet a variety of purposes
- Manage, analyze, and synthesize multiple streams of simultaneous information
- Create, critique, analyze and evaluate multimedia texts
- Attend to the ethical responsibilities required by these complex environments

NCTE 2008

NCTE 2008 Faculty Senate Information Technology Committee, March 2010