Project Assignment K: Summative Evaluation
Human-Computer Interaction
Due: 12/05/12

Do:

1. Using the usability criteria you specified in your report for Project Assignment E, conduct a summative evaluation of your Prototype 3. For your test, use subjects who have not previously tested or used your app.

2. Be prepared to present a five-minute presentation of your summative evaluation in class on December 5, 2012.

3. Create a link from your group’s Web page to your project report.

Turn in a report containing the following sections:

1. A description of your app and its functions.

2. The summative usability criteria you specified in your report for Project Assignment E.

3. An explanation of how you tested your app with respect to the summative usability criteria.

4. A presentation and analysis of the results of the summative evaluation. Did you meet your usability goals? If so, why? If not, why not?

2. A statement signed by all members of the group that all members of the group contributed their fair share of the effort on the assignment.
